Indianapolis World Police & Fire Games Scholarship
2009-2010

In 2001, 10,000 police officers and firefighters assembled in Indianapolis for the World Police & Fire Games. This celebration of “Heroes in the Heartland” offered the people of Indiana a unique opportunity to appreciate the brave public servants who serve and protect. The world-class competition, the international camaraderie and the positive image for public safety is a legacy of the Games that will be long-lasting. In the spirit of this excellence, organizers of the Games have established the Indianapolis World Police & Fire Games Scholarship Fund. The fund is intended to assist retired or full-time police officers and firefighters in pursuit of an education, so that they, like the athletes of the Games, can leave their legacy on the profession of public safety.

This scholarship is for undergraduate and graduate students attending IUPUI.
